Purpose of Form.—Use this form to report railroad retirement tax imposed on employee representatives.

Railroad Retirement Taxes.—The Railroad Retirement Tax Act imposes two taxes on an employee representative. One is based on compensation and the other is based on work-hours.

Taxes based on compensation.—These taxes are divided into Tier I and Tier II taxes. The amount of the compensation subject to each tax is different.

The Tier I tax rate for 1995 is 12.4%. It applies only to the first $61,200 paid during 1995 for services performed as an employee representative. The Tier I Medicare tax is 2.9%. It applies to all compensation paid during 1995 for services performed as an employee representative.

The Tier II tax rate for 1995 is 14.75%. It applies only to the first $45,300 paid during 1995 for services performed as an employee representative.

Tax based on work-hours.—This supplemental tax is 33 cents for each work-hour for which compensation is paid during the quarter. Employee representatives will be told by the Railroad Retirement Board the tax rate for each quarter before the quarter begins.

Definitions

1. Employee Representative.—The term “employee representative” is defined in the Railroad Retirement Tax Act (section 3231(c) of the Internal Revenue Code). It means:

DUPLICATE

General Information—(Continued from back of ORIGINAL)

(a) Any officer or official representative of a railway labor organization that is not included as an employer as defined in section 3231(a) of the Code who (1) was in the service of an employer and (2) is authorized and designated to represent employees in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, as amended; and

(b) Any individual who is regularly assigned to or regularly employed by an employee representative as defined in (a) above in connection with the duties of the employee representative's office.

2. Compensation.—The term "compensation" means payment in money, or in something that may be used instead of money, for services rendered as an employee representative. It does not include sickness or accident disability payments received (a) under a workmen's compensation law, (b) under section 2(a) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act for days of sickness due to on-the-job injury, (c) under the Railroad Retirement Act, or (d) more than 6 months after the calendar month the employee representative last worked for the railway labor organization.

Nor does it include payments for medical or hospital expenses connected with such disabilities. It also does not include payments for traveling or other necessary expenses made separately or designated specifically as travel or business expenses when combined in a payment for services rendered.

If an individual performs services as both an employee representative and as an employee and the total pay for these services is more than the applicable maximum, subtract the pay as an employee from the maximum to get the amount subject to the employee representative tax.

Compensation is considered paid when actually paid or when constructively paid.

Constructively paid means that the pay (a) has been credited to the employee representative's account or set apart with no limit or condition on how or when the payment will be made and (b) is available to draw on at any time and to control.

3. Work-hours.—For an explanation of work-hours, see Supplemental Tax in the Instructions for Form CT-1.

Who Must File.—As an employee representative, you must file a return for the first quarter in which you are paid taxable compensation for services you rendered as a representative. Continue filing returns for each quarter, even if you are not paid taxable compensation. When your taxable compensation payments stop completely, file a return marked "Final Return." Attach to the final return a statement giving the name of the person keeping your records and the address where they will be kept.
