Real Estate Mortgage Investment Conduits (REMICs) Reporting Information (And Other Collateralized Debt Obligations (CDOs)) Supplement No. 3

Important Reminder

Publication 938 (Rev. Nov. 91) was the last edition that contained a complete directory of REMICs and CDOs with startup/issue dates before October 1, 1991. Each edition now only contains a directory based on the Forms 8811 we receive for that year's edition, including changes to items listed in previous editions. This edition lists information we received during the period starting September 16, 1994, and ending September 15, 1995. For 1996, the period will start September 16, 1995, and end August 31, 1996. The changes to previously listed REMICs are located near the back of this publication under Amended Listings.

We recommend that you keep the previous editions and use the current and future editions to add to your REMIC and CDO files. If you need a copy of the November 1991 (Nov. 91) or later editions, you can still order it from the IRS. See Ordering publications and forms, later.

Introduction

This edition of Publication 938 contains a directory based on information received by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) during the period September 16, 1994, through September 15, 1995. The directory contains listings of new real estate mortgage investment conduits (REMICs) and collateralized debt obligations (CDOs) and any items changed from a previous edition. For changed items see Amended Listings, at the end of this publication.

You can use the directory to obtain the name, address, and if given, telephone number of the representative of a REMIC or the issuer of a CDO to request certain tax information. See Who Should Use This Publication, later. The representative or issuer is required to provide you with certain information.

Throughout this publication, you will find references to sections of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and to related Income Tax Regulations (Regulations).

Real Estate Mortgage Investment Conduit (REMIC). A REMIC issues regular and residual interests to investors. For tax purposes, a REMIC is generally treated as a partnership and the residual interest holders are treated as the partners.

A REMIC regular interest is treated as a debt instrument for tax purposes. A REMIC may have several classes (sometimes these classes are called "tranches") of regular interests.

For more information see IRC 860A through 860G and any regulations issued under those sections.

Collateralized Debt Obligation (CDO). For purposes of this publication, a CDO is a debt instrument, other than a REMIC regular interest, that is secured by a pool of mortgages or other evidences of indebtedness and that has principal payments that are subject to acceleration. CDOs, also known as "pay-through bonds," are commonly divided into different classes or "tranches."

Ordering publications and forms. To order publications and forms, call 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676). Or you can also write the IRS Forms Distribution Center nearest you. Check your income tax package for the address.

If you have access to a personal computer and a modem, you can also get many forms and publications electronically. See How To Get Forms and Publications in your income tax package for details.

To order the Nov. 91 or later edition of Publication 938, you can also use Form 6112, Prior Years' Tax Forms Order.

If ordering a prior year edition, please be sure to indicate which edition you want. For example, if you want the 1992 edition of Publication 938 indicate that you want "Publication 938 (Rev. Nov. 92), Supplement No.1."

Telephone help. You can call the IRS with your tax question Monday through Friday during regular business hours. Check your telephone book for the local number or you can call 1-800-829-1040.

Telephone help for hearing-impaired persons. If you have access to TDD equipment, you can call 1-800-829-4059 with your tax question or to order forms and publications. See your tax package for the hours of operation.

Who Should Use This Publication

The persons listed below, or their agent or representative, should follow the procedures in this publication to request tax information from the representative of the REMIC or CDO issuer.

- 1) A broker who holds a REMIC regular interest or CDO for itself or as a nominee for an actual holder.
- 2) A middleman who holds a REMIC regular interest or CDO as a nominee for an actual holder and who is required to file an information return with respect to the regular interest or CDO.
- 3) The following persons, if they hold their REMIC regular interest or CDO directly and not through a nominee:
 - a) A corporation,
 - b) A non-calendar year taxpayer,
 - c) A dealer in securities or commodities required to register as such under the laws of the United States or a state,
 - d) A real estate investment trust (as defined in IRC 856),
 - e) An entity registered at all times during the taxable year under the Investment Company Act of 1940,
 - f) A common trust fund (as defined in IRC 584(a)),

- g) A financial institution such as a mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, building and loan association, cooperative bank, homestead association, credit union, industrial loan association or bank, or other similar organization,
- h) Any trust which is exempt from tax under IRC 664(c) (i.e., a charitable remainder annuity trust or a charitable remainder unitrust), and
- i) A REMIC.

Note. A person listed in (3) above who holds an interest through a nominee (instead of directly from the REMIC or the issuer of the CDO) should request the information from the nominee instead of from the REMIC or the issuer of the CDO. The request should be made of the nominee in the same manner as specified below for requesting information from the representative.

How to Request Information

You can request information from the representative of the REMIC or issuer of the CDO by telephone or mail. If only an address is listed in the directory, you must request the information in writing. Your request must specify the calendar quarters (for example, all calendar quarters in 1995) and the classes of REMIC regular interests or CDOs for which you need the information.

Information from the representative. The representative for the REMIC or issuer of the CDO must provide the information to you by the later of:

- 1) 30 days after the close of the calendar quarter for which you request the information, or
- 2) Two weeks after the representative receives your request.

The representative may provide the information to you by telephone, by written statement sent by first class mail, by printing the information in a publication that is generally read by and available to persons who may request the information, or by any other method agreed to by both parties. If the information is published, the representative must notify you by telephone or in writing of the publication in which the information will appear, the date of its appearance, and, if possible, the page number.

The representative must provide the following information for each calendar quarter for which you requested the information.

- 1) The name, address, and employer identification number of the REMIC or issuer of the CDO.
- 2) The CUSIP number or other identifying number or information of each specified class, and whether the information is for a REMIC regular interest or a CDO.

- 3) Interest paid on a CDO for each calendar quarter and the total interest for the calendar year if the request was for the last quarter of the calendar year.
- 4) Interest accrued on a class of REMIC regular interest for each accrual period during each calendar quarter and the total interest for the calendar year if the request was for the last quarter of the calendar year.
- 5) Original issue discount (OID) accrued for each accrual period during each calendar quarter and the total OID for the calendar year if the request was for the last quarter of the calendar year.
- 6) The daily portion of OID per $1,000 of original principal amount for each accrual period during each calendar quarter.
- 7) The length of the accrual period.
- 8) The adjusted issue price of the REMIC regular interest or the CDO at the beginning of each accrual period during each calendar quarter.
- 9) The percentages of REMIC assets (based on the average adjusted basis during the calendar quarter) that are: qualifying real property loans under IRC 593(d)(1), assets described in IRC 7701(a)(19), and real estate assets defined in IRC 856(c)(6)(B).
- 10) Information necessary to compute the accrual of market discount (see Market discount information, later).
- 11) If the REMIC is a single-class REMIC, the total investment expenses of the REMIC for the quarter or the year and the regular interest holder's share of such expenses.

REMIC regular interest held by REIT. If, for any calendar quarter, less than 95% of the REMIC assets are real estate assets, then additional information must be provided to any real estate investment trust (REIT) that holds a regular interest in a REMIC. See Regulation 1.6049-7(f)(3)(ii) for the additional information to be provided to the REIT.

Reporting Requirements for REMICs, Issuers of CDOs, Brokers, and Middlemen

If you are a REMIC or a CDO issuer, or a broker or middleman holding a REMIC regular interest or CDO as a nominee for the actual holder, you may need to file information returns with the IRS. You also may need to provide information to the actual holder of the REMIC regular interest or CDO.

The person required to file returns and provide information if the holder of record is the actual holder (i.e., not a nominee or middleman) is: the REMIC or issuer of the CDO. Otherwise, it is the broker or middleman.

Forms 1099-INT, Interest Income, and Forms 1099-OID, Original Issue Discount, must be filed with the IRS and mailed to the actual holder. Further, an additional written statement must be sent with the Forms 1099 to the actual holder (see Additional Written Statement, later).

Exempt Recipients

Neither Form 1099-INT nor Form 1099-OID needs to be filed if the holder of the REMIC regular interest or the CDO is:

- 1) An organization exempt from tax under IRC 501(a) or an individual retirement plan,
- 2) The United States or a state, the District of Columbia, a possession of the United States, or a political subdivision or a wholly-owned agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing,
- 3) A foreign government, a political subdivision of a foreign government, or an international organization,
- 4) A foreign central bank of issue (as defined in Regulation 1.895-1(b)(1)),
- 5) A trust described in IRC 4947(a)(1) (relating to certain charitable trusts),
- 6) A broker (as defined in IRC 6045(c) and Regulation 1.6045-1(a)(1)),
- 7) A middleman (as defined in Regulation 1.6049-4(f)(4)) who holds as a nominee any REMIC regular interest or CDO,
- 8) A corporation (as defined in IRC 7701(a)(3)), whether domestic or foreign,
- 9) A dealer in securities or commodities required to register as such under the laws of the United States or a state,
- 10) A real estate investment trust (as defined in IRC 856),
- 11) An entity registered at all times during the tax year under the Investment Company Act of 1940,
- 12) A common trust fund (as defined in IRC 584(a)),
- 13) A financial institution such as a mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, building and loan association, cooperative bank, homestead association, credit union, industrial loan association or bank, or other similar organization,
- 14) A trust which is exempt from tax under IRC 664(c) (i.e., a charitable remainder annuity trust or a charitable remainder unitrust), or
- 15) A REMIC.

Reporting Interest

You must file Form 1099-INT or Form 1099-OID to report interest (as defined later) of $10 or more accrued or paid for that calendar year to a holder who is not an exempt recipient.

Note. If you withheld tax under the backup withholding rules, you must file Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID. You are responsible for withholding on reportable payments at a 31% rate if the payee does not give you its taxpayer identification number or fails to certify that the number given you is correct, or you are notified by IRS that backup withholding is necessary. Report backup withholding in Box 4 of Form 1099-INT or Form 1099-OID.

For more information on backup withholding, see Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G.

Interest. For information reporting purposes, the term "interest" includes:

- 1) Interest actually paid on a CDO,
- 2) Interest accrued on a REMIC regular interest (whether or not paid), and
- 3) OID accrued on a REMIC regular interest or a CDO.

Form 1099-INT

If the debt instrument does not have OID or has only de minimis OID (defined later), then use Form 1099-INT to report interest income actually paid on a CDO and interest income accrued, whether or not paid, on a REMIC regular interest.

Report in Box 1 of Form 1099-INT the amount of interest, other than OID, accrued or paid to the actual holder. Further, if the REMIC is a single-class REMIC, also include in Box 1 the regular interest holder's share of investment expenses for the year.

Form 1099-OID

If a debt instrument has OID that is not de minimis (defined later), use Form 1099-OID, to report:

- 1) The amount of OID accrued on a REMIC regular interest or a CDO, and
- 2) The interest actually paid on a CDO or the interest accrued on a REMIC regular interest.

In addition, if the REMIC is a single-class REMIC, also include the regular interest holder's share of investment expenses for the year in Box 2 of Form 1099-OID.

De minimis OID. The amount of OID is de minimis and considered to be zero if the OID is less than 1/4 of 1% (.0025) of the stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of full years from the date of issue to maturity. See Regulation 1.1273-1(d)(3)(ii) for the de minimis rule of installment obligations.

Information For the Actual Holder

For each Form 1099-INT or Form 1099-OID you file, you must provide the actual holder of the REMIC regular interest or CDO with a copy of the form (or an appropriate substitute) and a separate statement containing the information specified next (under Additional Written Statement).

You can mail the information to the last known address of the actual holder of the REMIC regular interest or CDO. The information must be furnished to holders by March 15 of the following year.

Additional Written Statement

In addition to the information on Form 1099-INT and Form 1099-OID, you must give each actual holder a written statement with the following information:

- 1) The CUSIP number or other identifying number or information of each REMIC regular interest or CDO, if not on the form.
- 2) The daily portion of OID per $1,000 of original principal amount for each accrual period in the calendar year.
- 3) The length of the accrual period.
- 4) The adjusted issue price of the REMIC regular interest or the CDO at the beginning of each accrual period for which interest is being reported for the calendar year.
- 5) (If you are a REMIC) The percentages of REMIC assets (based on the average adjusted basis during the calendar quarter) that are qualifying real property loans under IRC 593, assets described in IRC 7701(a)(19), and real estate assets defined in IRC 856(c)(6)(B).
- 6) Information necessary to compute the accrual of market discount (see Market discount information, later).
- 7) (If you are a single-class REMIC) The total investment expenses paid or accrued during each calendar quarter by the REMIC that are deductible by the REMIC and the holder's share of those expenses.

Note. If, for any calendar quarter, less than 95% of a REMIC's assets are real estate assets then the REMIC must provide the additional information specified in Regulation 1.6049-7(f)(3)(ii) to any REIT that holds a regular interest.

Market discount information. The following information is necessary to compute the accrual of market discount for each accrual period in the calendar year.

- 1) For instruments without OID, a fraction, whose numerator equals the interest allocable to that accrual period, and whose denominator equals the interest allocable to that accrual period plus the remaining interest as of the end of that accrual period.
- 2) For instruments with OID, a fraction, whose numerator equals the OID allocable to that accrual period, and whose denominator equals the OID allocable to that accrual period plus the remaining OID as of the end of that accrual period.

- 3) For instruments with de minimis OID, the fraction may be computed under either (1) or (2), but you must be consistent in the method used.

The interest or OID allocable to each accrual period and the remaining interest or OID are calculated by considering events which occurred before the close of the accrual period and the prepayment assumption, if any. Determine any prepayment assumption as of the REMIC's startup day (as defined in IRC 860G(a)(9)) or the CDO's issue date (as defined in IRC 1275(a)(2)). For debt instruments without OID, if a prepayment assumption is made, it must be the one that would be made in computing OID if the debt instrument had been issued with OID.

Actual holder. Publication 550, Investment Income and Expenses, discusses the tax treatment of regular and residual interests. See REMICs and Other CDOs in that publication.

Other Information Return Requirements

Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions, is used by brokers or middlemen to report to the IRS and their client when a REMIC regular interest or a CDO was sold, exchanged, or redeemed at maturity or when called prior to maturity.

If a holder of a REMIC regular interest or CDO is subject to backup withholding, then backup withholding is imposed on the gross proceeds of the sale or redemption. The broker who handles the sale or redemption is responsible for backup withholding. For information about backup withholding, information reporting requirements, and the penalties for failure to file or failure to furnish certain information returns or statements, see the instructions for preparing Forms 1099.
