Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice.—Our legal right to ask for the information on this form is Internal Revenue Code sections 6001, 6011, 6109, and 6402 and their regulations. You are required to give us the information so that we can process your claim for refund of your share of an overpayment shown on the joint return with your spouse. We need it to ensure that you are allocating items correctly and to allow us to figure the correct amount of your claim for refund. If you do not provide all of the information, we may not be able to process your claim. We may give this information to the Department of Justice as provided by law. We may also give it to cities, states, and the District of Columbia to carry out their tax laws.

You are not required to provide the information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Code section 6103.

The time needed to complete and file this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is: Recordkeeping, 13 min.; Learning about the law or the form, 8 min.; Preparing the form, 58 min.; and Copying, assembling, and sending the form to the IRS, 31 min.

If you have comments concerning the accuracy of these time estimates or suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. You can write to the Tax Forms Committee, Western Area Distribution Center, Rancho Cordova, CA 95743-0001. Do not send the form to this address. Instead, see How Do I File Form 8379? below.

Are You an Injured Spouse?

You are an injured spouse if all or part of your share of the overpayment shown on your joint return was, or is expected to be, applied against your spouse's past-due child or spousal support payments or certain Federal debts such as student loans. You may file Form 8379 to claim your part of the refund if all three of the following apply:

1. You are not required to pay the past-due amount.
2. You received and reported income (such as wages, taxable interest, etc.) on the joint return, OR your main home was in a community property state (see line 6) other than Arizona.
3. You made and reported payments such as Federal income tax withheld from your wages or estimated tax payments, OR you claimed the earned income credit or other refundable credit, on the joint return.

If all three of the above apply and you want your share of the overpayment shown on the joint return refunded to you, complete this form. The IRS will figure your part of the overpayment and send you any refund that is due. However, if you also owe past-due child support or a Federal agency debt, part or all of your share of the overpayment may be applied to that debt. Allow at least 8 weeks for the processing of this claim.

How Do I File Form 8379?

- If you have already filed the joint tax return, mail Form 8379 by itself to the Internal Revenue Service Center for the place where you lived when you filed the joint return. See your tax return instruction booklet for the address. Note: Include copies of all W-2 forms of both spouses and any Forms 1099-R showing income tax withheld. If you do not include these copies, the processing of your claim may be delayed.
- If you have not filed the joint return, attach Form 8379 behind your return in order of the attachment sequence number. Enter "Injured Spouse" in the upper left corner of the return. Note: You cannot request direct deposit of your refund if you file Form 8379.
